

- How long have you guys been doing this?
 - This is our 7th season doing Sir Henry's Haunted Trail. It has been at this location every year.
- How have you guys prepared for Covid-19 and to open this season?
 - We have modeled our approach after the theme parks that have seen a successful reopening. We have instituted all the major CDC guidelines including social distancing and masks. Tickets MUST be purchased in advance. We are even having the trails fogged by a cleaning company each week. For a full list of Covid-19 precautions see our Covid-19 page on the website.
- How did you guys get started doing this?
 - Zach Glaros, the owner of Sir Henry's Haunted Trail, used to do a large home haunt for many years at his parents' home in Lakeland. In 2014 he and his dad decided to pursue opening a haunted trail at their family's property, which is where we are now.
- You guys support a charity each year?
 - Yes, we benefit a different charity each year. In the past we have donated to Wounded Warriors, Versus Cancer, K9's for Warriors and this year Folds of Honor. They provide children of fallen or disabled veterans with educational scholarships.
- What makes Sir Henry's Haunted Trail so unique?
 - Zach wanted Sir Henry's Haunted Trail to have a distinct ambiance to guests. A style that felt very much like a Northeastern Halloween. That and the focus on story and originality sets us apart from anything else around us. We have had many guests tell us that this reminds them of Halloween in the Northeast.
- Who is Sir Henry? What is his story in all of this?
 - Sir Henry was once a legendary showman and entertainer in the early 1900's . He created quite the fame and fortune for himself but it was all tragically ripped away. His wife was brutally murdered on the night of their wedding, and just one-week later Sir Henry's car was found crashed into a tree, engulfed in flames. They pulled a charred skeleton from the wreckage and he was presumed dead. 3 years pass and suddenly rumors of a phantom skeleton dressed as the famous Sir Henry stir among the town. These sightings became more frequent and soon people began disappearing. Legend has it that Sir Henry has returned to hunt down and take revenge on the killer of his beloved bride.
 - Every trail we do is tied into this central story in some way. Almost like a TV show, the audience gets new pieces to the puzzle every year as Sir Henry gets closer to his bride's killer.
- Talk about the trails you have this year.

This year we are featuring 3 trails. "The Candy Tree", "Marionette of the Dead", and "Midnight Slaughter"

"The Candy Tree" takes in a vintage Halloween setting where trick or treaters are wearing old style Halloween costumes. Legend has it that there is a giant tree called 'The Candy Tree' that gives kids all the candy he could ever want. But there also is a myth about a creature, Kane, that emerges from this tree on Halloween and hunts down trick or treaters to eat.

"Marionette of the Dead" is set in an abandoned funeral home as a schizophrenic puppet artist, Poppy, chases the abandoned business and home as her new studio. Poppy loves to perform puppet shows and prefers creating her puppets out of flesh. She has been using the left-over dead body parts, but when the dead flesh runs out, she goes in search of new flesh. After inviting new guests in she traps them in her show only to turn them into her next puppet.

“Midnight Slaughter” features the Brown family as they continue to thrive in the midst of a famine. Their crops are growing just fine with their special fertilizer, human flesh. But after their daughter Suzanne betrayed the family secret the Brown’s have taken shelter in a large family compound. With only the light of the moon to guide you out, will you escape their slaughter?

- Where did the name Sir Henry come from?
 - Sir Henry is actually the name of the street that Zach grew up on doing his home haunt. He created the character almost 10 years ago and when he began the trail, he wanted an icon character for the face of the brand. He settled on the top hat, bow tie wearing skeleton and named him Sir Henry after where it all began.
- What are your dates and times?
 - We are open every Friday and Saturday in October as well as the last 3 Sundays. We always open at 7:30 p.m. but closing times vary. You can find them on our website at www.sirhenryshauntedtrail.com
- What are your tickets and prices?
 - We have a General Admission ticket that gets you one admission to each of our 3 haunted trails. That ranges from $25-$35 depending on the night. Due to covid-19 we are not offering a front of the line ticket.
- What else do you have going on?
 - We have a gift shop where you can buy a variety of Sir Henry swag including t-shirts and hoodies. We also have a snowball food truck and a concession stand that has plenty of Halloween food options for guests. There are also several photo ops around our common area that guests can take pictures with.
